The shipper has to get him/her registered at the customs, this can be done by him/her if in Oman or by their local agent who approaches DG Customs at Custom house. They need to carry their Passport copy, residence card copy with them. Customs will register them and they will receive a username and password on their mobile phone. They then log onto the system and authorize the clearing company to clear the effects. Shipper can add very small amount of dry food stuff as long as the items are in original packing with their expiry date clearly visible on the pack, the expiry date should be much beyond the date of arrival in Oman.
